Winter Photography Exhibit: The Snowy Owl

January 1–March 29, 2015

Mass Audubon's Blue Hills Trailside Museum in Milton is pleased to announce its winter exhibit, The Snowy Owl. This exciting and inspirational show offers not only the opportunity to behold the grace and beauty of the Snowy Owl but also a way to help in their protection and study. Norman Smith, Director the Trailside Museum, has been studying Snowy Owls since 1981. As part of his research, he attaches bands and transmitters to Snowy Owls at Logan Airport, and then tracks their travels.
